Leftover tea will stay fresh for several hours if you don't store it in the refrigerator. Cloudy tea can be cleared by adding a little boiling water.

Potatoes, the most common of vegetables, can be made something special by the use of herbs. Try shopped chives over baked potatoes, marjoram or parsley with scalloped potatoes, dill or sweet basil in potato soup. Small amounts of any of these herbs can be used in mashed potatoes.

Leftover pieces of linoleum are handy for covering kitchen cabinet shelves. The linoleum is colorful, easy to clean, and not easily scratched.

State Chooses Southern Route

The Virginia State Highway Commission has reversed an earlier decision, and has voted, 5 to 3, to locate a proposed new Interstate Super Highway, Route 64, along a suggested "southern" route instead of a route through Charlottesville and Staunton. The route will run from Richmond to Clifton Forge.

The new decision will send the Expressway, a new major project, through Appomattox County. Exact routing will be guided by surveys, and it is likely that the engineering work and acquisition of rights of way will bring about a time element before actual work starts. Also, final approval of the routing will have to be given by the Federal government.

The new routing would roughly parallel Routes 360 and 460 from Richmond west, by Roanoke and on to Clifton Forge.

Due to the tremendous amount of money involved in building this major new super-expressway, there has been great competition for its location on the part of counties and cities along the proposed line.

Today 15 per cent of the national debt is in Series E and H Savings Bonds, almost wholly owned by individual Americans.

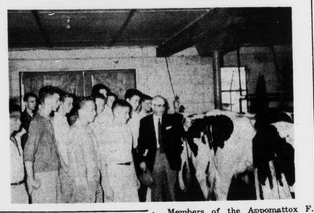
Babcock & Wilcox To Build Boilers For Cargo Vessels

New York.- The Babcock & Wilcox Company reported today that it had received a contract to manufacture eight marine boilers for installation aboard four "machinery aft" designed cargo ships, which will be the first of their kind built in the United States.

The order was awarded to Babcock & Wilcox by the National Steel & Shipbuilding Corporation, of San Diego, Calif., which will build the vessels for American Export Lines, Inc., under terms of a replacement program subsidized by the Maritime Administration.

Officials explained that the machinery aft hull arrangement is adapted from its use on tankers. It increases cargo carrying capacity 15 per cent by using the broad center sections for cargo instead of propulsion machinery, and by eliminating the conventional long shaft alley and shafting required when propulsion machinery is located farther forward.

Local F. F. A. Group Wins Dairy Honors



Members of the Appomattox F. F. A. Chapter dairy committee study high-producing cows on the farm of Mr. Jesse L. Torrence, R. F. D. 2, Appomattox. Emphasizing a strong feature of one of the animals is H. B. Pack, chapter adviser. Standing on Pack's right is Henry Covington, area winner of the F. F. A. Foundation award for dairy farming. The Appomattox Chapter has been named the outstanding F. F. A. chapter of the state in efficient dairy production.

Chapter Won For Dairy Production

Blackaburg, Va., June 16.- Appomattox County's Robert E. Lee F. F. A. Chapter received the top award for efficient dairy production, a plaque and $75 during the first session of the 1959 State F. F. A. Convention here tonight. Provided by the National Dairy Products Corporation in cooperation with Southern Dairies Inc., and the Chestnut Farms Dairy, the Efficient Dairy Production Award is based on overall efficiency in dairy farming.

The 78 members of the Appomattox F. F. A. are conducting thirty-three dairy enterprises. Chapter members own 89 animals — 67 of which are of production age. A high percentage of the animals are registered in breed associations.

They exhibited dairy animals at the Farmville 5-County Fair and the Lynchburg Farm Show. Four members of the group participated in the dairy farming award sponsored by the Future Farmers of America Foundation. All members kept production and costs records. The average production per cow was well above the county average. In 1958 a member of the chapter, Myron Richardson, won the Frank S. Loyd Dairy Award. Another member of the group, Winfred Nash, was similarly recognized this year.

Dennis Torrence is chairman of the chapter dairy committee. The chapter advisers are H. B. Pack, Jr., and W. Lewis Motley.

Appomattox May Get New Post Office

A representative of the U. S. Post Office Department has been in Appomattox to inspect locations for the possible location of a new post office building. The volume of business done by the Appomattox post office has steadily increased in recent years, and as a first class office, Appomattox is considered to be in line for larger quarters than those now occupied. The lease on the present office expires in December. It is not known if plans for a new location and building are being made with a view of moving by that time, in event it is decided to proceed with the project.

The Times-Virginian is informed that an option has been secured on the vacant lot located between the Professional Building and Courtland, the Ferguson home, on Court Street. We are also informed that other possible locations were viewed during the recent inspection of the Department representative. It has also been stated that in event the Department exercises its option, a private owner would purchase the property and construct the building for lease to the government.

Board Votes Compulsory Attendance

At the June meeting of the Appomattox Board of Supervisors, an ordinance was passed requiring the compulsory attendance at schools of children between the ages of 7 and 16. The state attendance was repealed last year, but certain cities, counties and towns were authorized to pass their own compulsory attendance legislation.
